

From the album Something Real – by Billy Wall

Goodnight Eileen

Lyrics to song of same name by Billy Wall

© 2006 Billy Wall – All rights reserved.

They're lighting the candles tonight
you know what that means
The Prima Donna has her day.

Tonight all the stars come down.
Its the Hollywood scene.
The little ladie's come of age.

Goodnight Eileen. You know what I mean
You come out acting like the party
Was a big surprise.

Sleep tight Eileen. You're now in your dreams.
One of the all-time losers singing
Rock'n'roll lullabies.

They promised you many delights,
which you've never seen.
You know you really don't have much say.

They've taken up all your time
to put you on the screen.
And they'll probably get their way.

Goodnight Eileen. You know what I mean.
You come out acting like the party
was a big surprise.

Sleep tight Eileen. You're now in your dreams.
One of the all-time losers singing
Rock'n'roll lullabies.

Sleep tight Eileen.
You're now in your dreams.
One of the all-time losers singing
Rock'n'roll lullabies.

one of the all-time losers singing
rock'n'roll lullabies.

album available at www.billywall.com

© 2006 Billy Wall – All rights reserved.